

SCANDINAVIAN, FINNISH & BALTIC CONCERTOS

From the 19th Century to the Present

A Discography of CDs and LPs
Prepared by Michael Herman

Edvard Grieg (1843-1907, Norway)

Born in Bergen. After being taught piano by his mother, he went to the Leipzig Conservatory at the age of 15 to study music, where his teachers included Ignaz Moscheles and Carl Reinecke. He then lived in Copenhagen and came under the influence of Niels W. Gade, who encouraged him to compose a symphony, and there he also met fellow Norwegian composer Rikard Nordraak who inspired Grieg to champion the cause of Norwegian music. He went on to become his country's greatest and most famous composer, who excelled in many genres including orchestral, chamber, solo piano, vocal and choral.
